Scarecrow Festival September 21 -22, 2013 Peddler's Village, Lahaska, Bucks County

Just thinking about the Scarecrow festival brings a smile to my face. I worked at Hart's Tavern while in grad school and I always looked forward to the Scarecrow Festival. The paths along the village have scarecrows made by organizations, children's groups and businesses. . . and some of them are pretty darn creative. Funny too.There is always plenty to do. . live entertainment and the food is great. . and I think the apple cider drinks are on the menu for the season too.

The annual scarecrow-making workshop has been a family favorite for years. Take home your very own scarecrow creation. ($25 fee per scarecrow, reservations recommended.) A pumpkin painting workshop on Sunday, and live entertainment and pumpkin pie eating contests both days.

Scarecrow Competition kicks off September 9th and runs October 27th. Get more information here.
